Euro Atlantic Diplomacy Society

Bridging science, policy and stakeholder ecosystems for a sustainable Europe

Euro Atlantic Diplomacy Society (EAD Society) is an innovative think tank committed to addressing challenges and shaping impactful, future-oriented solutions. By integrating cutting-edge scientific insight with strategic policy development informed decision-making and sustainable outcomes.

Beyond research, we build functional ecosystems - designing frameworks, developing mechanisms, proosing practical tools, and translating knowledge into validated policy recommendations and diverse clustering initiatives.

UN ECOSOC Status since 2018

Granted with Special Consultative Status at the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC), offering technical expertise, advocacy and implementing joint operation projects.

Think Tank and Policy Partner

We connect science, policy, and society to accelerate a more resilient and sustainable future through policy-based expertise and decision-maker(s) engagement.

European Reach

Supporting transnational cooperation and strategic partnerships across Europe to advance evidence-based policy outcomes. Contributing to proposal drafting, research activities and project implementation.

Quadruple Helix Approach

We connect public sector (municipalities and agencies), academia, industry and civil society for meaningful and successful collaboration.
